

Congressman Jo Bonner Offers Thanks to Our Veterans:

"It's Veterans Day in America. This is a time to reflect upon those who have risked their personal safety and too often sacrificed limbs and lives so that we may live in freedom.

"Our nation's 23 million veterans and the 1.4 million military personnel currently serving on active duty around the world know well that our precious liberty comes at a very high price. Our free society must be continually defended against a never yielding threat of tyranny.

"Today we honor all those who've donned the uniform of this great country and left our shores to fight and conquer evil.

"May God bless all our military – past and present - for their devoted service to our land, and may God bless America."
