

My staff and I compiled a brochure of places to see while visiting Washington, D.C. While this is not an exhaustive list of things to do in our nation's capital, it does include many of my favorite places. From monuments to museums to memorials, there are so many things to do in this fascinating city so rich with history and so full of places to explore.

My staff and I are here to help make your visit more special. If you would like to request a copy of this free brochure, please call my office at 1-800-288-8721.
